A Little Circus History Lesson

Most circuses throughout the world hire pre-developed acts to drop into themed touring shows. When the tour is over, circus artists move to the next circus show, sometimes performing the same act for decades. This has been the circus tradition for hundreds of years. Kinetic Arts Productions is unique in that it guides professional circus artists through an artistic development and rehearsal process that will yield wholly original content. We started working this way with the development of SALVAGE in 2015, creating a world-premiere theatrical circus production rather than a show created by piecing together circus acts. INVERSION in 2016 and CIRCUS VERITAS in 2017 followed the same creative process, and now it is BEYOND THE RING's chance to be built from the ground all the way up to the ceiling. Kinetic Arts Productions is the change in circus shows we want to be.
